

Magic and Myth

These stories are wild. These stories are magic. Some of the folk tales in this book series are strange and sad, some are a bit scary, and some are a bit mad. All the folktales are freshly remade for today's readers.

Grades 2–6, $16.99. The History Press, thehistorypress.co.uk. WATCH! A storyteller performs one of the tales.

Poems for Every Day

Partly based on the real-life experiences of the poet's own family, this celebratory collection of poems highlights the daily life of children while also honoring the experiences of his Latino family in the United States. In English and Spanish. PreK–grade 5 (interest level), grades 2–5 (reading level); $18.95. Lee and Low Books, leeandlow.com. FREE! Print the Teacher's Guide.

FREEBIE

A Kid-Safe Storyteller

Here's an easy way to quickly find and listen to stories based on children's ages and interests. With this free kids' podcast app, called Leela Kids, you simply select a child's age and a topic of interest, browse the episodes that match your specifications, then click and listen. Besides stories, there are also podcasts on learning a foreign language, poems, and more. Listen in at leelalabs.com.

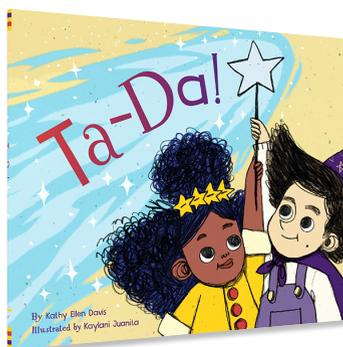

FREEBIE

The Magic of Storytelling

What makes a good story? One little girl thinks it's a princess with magical powers who can overcome any obstacle. Her friend thinks it's a combination of dragons, pirates, and fires that cause total chaos. These two young storytellers—and your students—learn that a good story needs both conflict and resolution.

Ages 3–5, $16.99. Chronicle Books, LLC; chroniclebooks.com.

SPEAKABOOS

So Many Stories

Capture young students' interest and motivate them to read with Speakaboos. Designed for PreK–grade 2, the kid-tested content focuses on comprehension, vocabulary, and more. Test out hundreds of stories with a free trial at speakaboos.com.

Did you know?

According to a ThriftBooks reader survey, 22% of respondents fold the top of a book's page to keep their place, and 73% never write in a book.